Types of Data

Categorical data can be sorted into nonoverlapping categories

Ordinal data can be written in order or given a numerical rating scale

Bivariate data is pairs of related data

Multivariate data involves 3 or more related data values

What type of data are each of the following?	Note that there may be more than one!
Number of sheep in a field
Nationality of a football player
Time taken to solve a Rubik's cube
Colour of a car
Age and shoe size
Type of pet owned
The mass of a suitcase
Number of people watching a cricket match
The length of a piece of string	